Coach Joe Pereira's women's soccer team earned a second straight NCAA Tournament bid and was seeded #1 in the region. The Monarchs lost a 2-0 game to Plymouth State in the quarterfinals. For the third consecutive season, Pereira was named DIAC Coach-of-the-Year as his team was undefeated in the conference. He also received Regional Coach-of-the-Year honors. Gaining All-Conference honors were Brenda McKimens, Anne Thorpe, Tricia Criswell, Ann Marenick, and Teresa Estes. Kelly Ramsey and Robyn Leff were Honorable Mention. McKimens and Thorpe were selected to the NCSAA All-Regional First Team, with Criswell and Marenick being named to the Second Team. Both Thorpe and McKimens were also named Division III All-Americans by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America.

The Monarchs were ranked as high as #2 nationally and freshman Thorpe was the leading scorer with 20 goals and 7 assists for the 16-4 team. The team set several season records including most wins in a season, fewest losses in a season, and most shutouts in a season. Senior Lori Silvasy, by virtue of her 3.5 gps, was honored as an Adidas Scholar-Athlete Second Team All-American. Goalie Teresa Estes recorded 11 shutouts for the season.

First year Coach Alan Dawson led his men's soccer team to an 8-6-3 overall record and a 4-2-1 conference slate, which gave the Monarchs a third place finish in the D1AC and Lawson Coach-of-the-Year Honors. Included among those victories was a 1-0 win against the in-state rival NC Wesleyan Bishops when they were ranked #8 in the nation. The Monarchs finished the season with a #9 ranking in the South.

Senior Paulo Leite and freshman Guillermo Roeder were selected to the National Soccer Coaches Association of America Division 111 All-South Second Teams. Roeder led the Monarch squad in scoring with 11 goals and 5 assists. Leite was a first team All-Conference player. Scott Passarella, Bobby Graham, Jim Smith, and Roeder were second team All-D1AC Members.

WOMEN AND MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team finished its season with a loss to NC Wesleyan in the first round of the DIAC Tournament. Cedric Brickey led the Monarch scoring with 18.4 points per game, while Michael Gales led the rebounding efforts with 13 per game. The final Monarch record was 4-20 and 3-11 in the conference, which was a seventh place regular season finish. Brickey was a second team All-Conference selection. Senior Terri Turner led the Lady Monarchs in scoring with 19.1 per game, while freshman Cornelia Thompson was the second-leader scorer (8.4) and the leading rebounder (8.9). The team showed marked improvement over the previous year, with a final 7-18 overall record and 4-10 conference slate for a sixth-place DIAC finish. Turner was selected to the second team All-DIAC and Thompson was Honorable Mention. Pictured: L to R — Nancy Ramsey, Sue Honeycutt, Rhonda Adams, Belinda Lellock, Kim Floyd, Cheryl Shaff, Shawna Leake, Nicole Baugarten, Rebecca Cartrette, Linda Eberly, Beth Stayton, Kelly Taylor, Paula Carter, Christine Lukas, Cornelia Thompson, and Vivian Guerrero.

WOMEN'S GOLF

Some say that three's a crowd, but for the Methodist College women's golf team, three National Championship Trophies are just right! The five-member squad won its third consecutive NGCA Division III National Championship in forceful and convincing style — by 77 strokes.

Leading the third national triumph May 2-5 for the Monarchs was tournament medalist Kristina Kavanaugh. She played the 5,812 yd., par 72 Dubuque Golf and Country Club Course with a three-day 236 total. Teammate Joy Bonhurst played with a 239 which earned her second place honors. Holly Anderson was hampered with an injury later designated as a broken rib. She was unable to compete in the first of competition, but gritted it out to the final two days to post 88-87 scores. With Anderson disabled, Melissa Dziabo, All-American posted a 253 score and Wymer contributed a 261 total.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

On Halloween Day 1987 the Methodist College Men's cross country team "treated" the college to its first DIAC cross country Championship since 1965. Monarch runners captured six of the top nine spots. Sophomore John Storms won the individual title and Brian Cole was second. Both Storms and Cole were All-DIAC Region runners, with Brian Tyre and Gregg Coleman also capturing All-DIAC honors. Coach Jeff Degraw was selected Coach-of-the-Year. In addition to winning the DIAC Meet, the Monarchs won the Christopher Newport Invitational; finished second in the Methodist College Invitational; finished third at Campbell and Pembroke; and finally, completed the season with a fifth place finish in the South-Southeast Regional.

WOMEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Fielding an all-freshman team, the Lady Monarchs finished fourth in the Southeast Regional. Cathy O'Neil led the way with a 5th place finish in a school record time in the 5,000 meters and received All-Region honors in addition to All-Conference. The team had a #1 finish at Christopher Newport and seconds at Pembroke and The Methodist College Invitational.

Team receives praise after tournament.

MEN AND WOMEN'S TENNIS

The top three Monarch tennis players led the way as Methodist's women's tennis team tied for third place in the Dixie Conference Tournament held at Averitt College. Becky Burleigh, Anne Thorpe and Kelly Taylor, playing in the first, second, and third positions respectively, advanced into the second round of tournament action to give the Monarch's the much-needed points. Thorpe made it to the final round, but lost 6-2, 6-0.

In doubles competition, the Burleigh-Thorpe and Taylor-Knell duos won first round matches, but lost in the semi-finals.

UNC-Greensboro won the competition with 52 points, winning 8 of the 9 events. Virginia Wesleyan was second with 24 points, followed by Methodist. The Lady Monarchs completed the regular season with a 4-7 overall record and a 2-3 conference record.

With only one player, #6 seeded Henry Bowden, advancing past the final round, Methodist's men's tennis team gained a lone point and finished sixth in the DIAC Tournament held this past weekend in Greensboro. Bowden won his first round match against an NC Wesleyan opponent by 6-2, 6-1 scores, then lost to UNC-Greensboro, 7-6, 6-0. The final season record was 5-9 and 3-4 in the conference.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

Led by All-Conference junior twins Audra and Aura Griffey, the Monarch volleyball team sported a final 26-19 record and was fourth in the final DIAC Standings. Coach Diane Scherzer's squad led in the conference tournament's semifinal round to eventual winner St. Andrews. Aura Griffey also received All-Tournament honors and Billie Farris was chosen second team All-Conference.

As first year coach Diane Scherzer evaluated her softball squad prior to the season, she anticipated a "young, inexperienced squad" that might have a slow start, but "should mesh together" as the season progressed. Scherzer proved prophetic in her predictions as her twelve player squad composed of no seniors and only two juniors overcame a 2-15 start to finish the season 11-22 overall and 6-8 in the conference for a fifth place finish.

Three players received All-Conference honors. Sophomore Cheryl Shaff was a first team selection in the outfield and sophomore Linda Eberly received the honors for the first base position. Eberly led the team offense with a .351 batting average (33 hits, 20 RBI's, 25 in 28 attempts for stolen bases). Shaff, who split duties between the outfield and the pitching mound had a .293 average at the plate. Shortstop freshman Laurie McGinn was the second-leading hitter on the team (.333) and received 2nd Team All-Conference honors.

Coach: Tom Austin

For the second time in three years, Marietta College proved the post-season Nemesis for the Methodist College baseball squad's hopes of winning the Division III world series.

Methodist lost its series opener 4-6, to Ithaca College when plagued by three errors that all resulted in Ithaca scores. Methodist gained its series victory in a 13-inning game against California State by a 2-1 score.

Methodist's season prior to the series was an excellent one. The season began with the Monarchs winning 24 of their first 25 games. At one point the Monarchs reeled off a school record 22 consecutive victories in a 33 day span.

The Monarch's gained their berth in the World Series by winning the NCAA South Regional Tournament in a convincing manner with three straight victories. The final season was 37-9.

CHEERLEADERS

The Methodist College Cheerleading Team finished among nine small college teams competing in the National Cheerleading Association Championships Jan. 3 in Dallas, Texas.

Monarch Cheerleading Coach Gewn Sykes said her team scored highest in the spirit and enthusiasm category and in dance. The Methodist squad scored second in creative choreography.

The MC Cheerleaders returned to campus Dec. 28 and practiced three times daily for five days prior to leaving for Dallas. On New Year's Eve, the cheerleaders and their coach gathered for a watch-night service in Hensdale Chapel.

Director of Student Activities Chris Ryan, who accompanied the team to Dallas, said the Monarchs received a thunderous ovation from the audience at the Dallas Convention Center as they ended their three-minute routine by dancing to "Good Golly, Miss Molly".

Noting that 10 members of her 17-member squad are freshman, Coach Sykes said she was very pleased with the group's showing. The latest accomplishment means the Monarchs have achieved the highest ranking on any NCAA Division III cheerleading squad in the nation for three consecutive years.

The Monarch cheerleaders finished second to UNC-G in the Dixie Conference Cheerleading Championship.

... New Athletic Field.

The Methodist College Board of Trustees has approved the addition of football to the college's athletic program, effective with the 1989-1990 school year. The action came during the trustee's meeting January 28.

College President Elton Hendricks gave the trustees a preliminary cost estimate and suggested that football would help the college attract students. Methodist will be the first NCAA Division III school in North Carolina to field a football team. Under NCAA rules, Division III schools are not allowed to give athletic scholarships.

"We've talked about this off and on for several years," said Dr. Hendricks, "and after doing some arithmetic, I believe we can generate enough revenue to cover operating costs."

President Hendricks said an existing soccer field at Methodist will be modified to accommodate football and that the search for a football coach will begin immediately. "We want to have a coach on board September 1," he added. "He will then have next year to develop the program and recruit players. An assistant coach and trainer will be added in 1989-1990."

Athletic Director Tom Austin said Methodist will likely play a nine-game schedule during the initial 1989-1990 season. NCAA Division III members who have agreed to play Methodist College include: Hampden-Sydney College, Randolph Macon College, Ferrum College, Frostburg State College (MD), Newport News Apprentice School, and Wesley College (Delaware). Other opponents will include: Guilford College, Tennessee Wesleyan College, and St. Paul's College (VA).

"We will not limit our search for a head football coach to the college ranks," said Austin. "We're looking for someone who will build a program that is both academically and athletically solid and who will stay within NCAA guidelines."

Is there a stadium in Methodist's future? The current soccer field and track, situated in a partially landscaped bowl, could easily accommodate stadium seating and a fieldhouse. The original site plan for Methodist College, developed by Stevens and Wilkinson of Atlanta, shows a "stadium" on the eastern edge of the campus.

Methodist already has some of the finest outdoor athletic facilities in the state. Last fall eight new tennis courts were built adjacent to the softball field and a golf driving range was completed just south of Shelley Field.

Restored Mallet-Rogers House Opens To Public

Methodist College and the Florence Rogers Charitable Trust held a ribbon cutting and open house at the restored Mallet-Rogers House Sunday, May 15.

Located on the southern edge of the campus near O'Hanlon Amphitheater, the 18th Century structure underwent a two-year, $150,000 renovation and will now serve as an art gallery. The Florence Rogers Charitable Trust donated the house to the campus in February, 1986. The college and the trust jointly financed the restoration and renovation.

JARMAN AND HILL HONORED

The United States Achievement Academy announced that Methodist College student Ricky Hill has been named a United States National Award winner in cheerleading. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American High School students.

Ricky, who is a Methodist College cheerleader will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally.

"If I were president of Methodist College"

I would initiate an honor award for conduct, leadership, and fellowship. (Not three different ones but one incorporating all).

I think this would increase strides to better conduct and possibly with some financial award (no matter how small or large) towards their education the coming year this might make better conduct a more financial as well as emotional reward.

The judging would be hard but let not only teachers and other faculty vote but RAs, resident supervisors and presidents and heads of clubs or organizations vote also.

The award could be given at a ceremony of your choice, but it should be done in front of his/her peers. (That's always an inspiration for the winner to continue the conduct and for others to strive to do as well). Thank you, Frank Jarman.

Introducing the New SGA officers

The trustees of Methodist College voted Jan. 28 to build the Physical Activities Center in two phases.

Phase I will include the original design except the swimming pool. Phase II — the pool — will be built later as additional funds become available. The building will be modified as needed to facilitate the two-phase construction schedule.

College President Elton Hendricks said the trustees reaffirmed their intent to build the entire facility. He said he anticipates a ground-breaking for Phase I late this year or early next year. Player, Inc. of Fayetteville has been selected to be the general contractor for the new building.

The three-year old capital fund drive for the PAC netted gifts and pledges of $2.9 million during the first 16 months — Oct. 1986 - Jan. 1988. The goal for the three-year campaign is $3.5 million.

Phase I of the PAC will contain a 1,200 seat gymnasium, locker rooms for men and women, a training room, weight room, classrooms, and offices for the athletic directors and coaches.

During a campaign visit to Methodist College Jan. 28, Elizabeth Dole described her husband Robert as a war hero, a problem solver, and "the most electable" Republican running for president.

Mrs. Dole's appearance was arranged by Dole supporters in Cumberland County. The Salisbury, NC native was warmly received as she spoke to a crowd of 200 persons in the Student Union and then lingered to shake hands and chat.

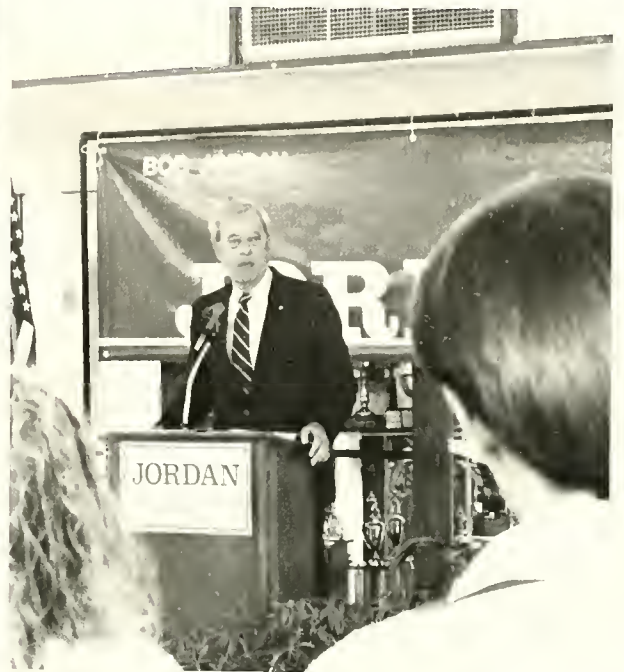

Jonathon Jackson, the youngest son of Democratic presidential hopeful Jesse Jackson, made a campaign stop at Methodist College Feb. 9. He was invited by the Black Student Movement on campus.

Following a late afternoon conference and a reception, Jackson spoke to a crowd of 100 in Reeves Auditorium. College President Hendricks gave the invocation and the Methodist College Gospel Choir performed prior to his speech.

A recent graduate of NC & A&T University, Jackson repeated his father's calls for economic justice for American workers, reduced military spending, and a doubling of federal spending for education.

G A D D Y

A native of Roxboro, North Carolina, Mr. Gaddy received his Bachelor of Arts from Guilford College in Greensboro. He is a newscaster for WRAL-TV in Raleigh and responds to many civic and community requests. He is a former board member and a current member of Edenton Street United Methodist Church in Raleigh and is a member of the Board of Trustees of Methodist College. He has received United Press Awards for documentaries and many humanitarian and civic recognitions, including awards from the Association for Retarded Citizens, the Civitan Club, United Cerebral Palsy, the North Carolina Department of Human Resources, Toastmasters, and Special Olympics.

Earleene Bass — When Awards Day was held, Earleen Bass received a special award from the Methodist's ROTC Unit. She also received a standing ovation from the audience.

Earleene Bass is more than a faculty secretary. She's regarded as a friend to students, staff and faculty; a perfectionist, and one of the hardest working people on campus. If you're a former student, chances are she typed most of the tests and exams you took.

When she came to Methodist in January, 1963, she was faculty secretary and switchboard operator. There were 200 students and 25 faculty members. Her boss was Frank Eason and she worked for three academic dean: Dr. Womack, Dr. Clark, and Dr. Sadler.

Before Methodist hired a professional printer in 1986, Mrs. Bass handled all printing and duplicating. In the 60's and 70's she progressed from spirit master to mimeograph machine to offset printing with paper plates. She types and duplicated most of the self-studies for the Southern Association of Colleges And Schools.

In recent years, Mrs. Bass has acquired an IBM personal computer and word processing software that have made her job much easier. Although every faculty member now has a telephone, she still takes messages for faculty when they are in class, advising students, or attending meetings. She also distributes their mail. Through good times and bad, Mrs. Bass has maintained her pride in Methodist College. "I've enjoyed coming to work every day," she said, "and I plan to stay 'til they kick me out."

BILL LOWDERMILK GIVES 25 YEARS

Bill Lowdermilk has been an integral part of the Methodist College experience for thousands of students. He has also served as Methodist's goodwill ambassador to the N.C. Conference of the United Methodist Church, the Fayetteville, community, and the college's alumni.

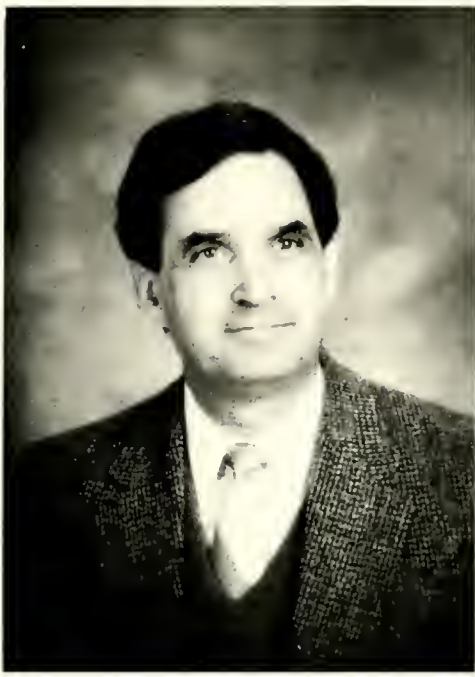

Friendly, compassionate, unselfish and meticulous in his work, Bill Lowdermilk always has time for present and former students. In his early years Assistant Director of Public Relations, he and Charles McAdams traveled throughout North Carolina and East Coast states, recruiting students for Methodist College. By 1968 the residence halls were full and were approaching the 1,200 student level for which the campus was designed.

As Director of Public Relations, and Assistant to the President, he helped lay the foundation for the Methodist College Alumni Association. As Vice President since 1977, he has been responsible for church and community relations. He has made all the arrangements needed to accommodate meetings, receptions, concerts, seminars, and summer camps. A total of 45,000 people now visit the campus annually for various events.

Bill Lowdermilk remains active in the United Methodist Church serving as a preacher, youth workshop leader, and host of the annual sessions of the N.C. Conference, held at Methodist 14 of the last 15 years. He is also involved in his community, having just completed a term as president of the Rotary Club of Fayetteville.

Bill Lowdermilk is a 'true believer' in Methodist College and its alumni. He is also optimistic about the future of the college. He regards the numerous advancements of the last few years as a harbinger of better days to come.

GENE CLAYTON REACHES QUARTER CENTURY MARK

Gene Clayton has worn many hats since coming to Methodist College in September, 1963. His first year he was assistant basketball coach, cross country, and men's tennis coach, and director of intramural.

Clayton received his bachelor's degree in physical education from Catawba College and his M. Ed. from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. From 1965-1973, he served as Director of Athletics, Chairman of the Physical Education Department, and basketball and golf coach. In 1973-75 he was Dean of Student Affairs, and currently holds the position of Vice President of Development.

As chief fund-raiser for the college, he has directed the "Come of Age" campaign to raise $3.5 million for construction of a Physical Activities Center. Many MC Alumni have received personal phone calls from Clayton during alumni phonathons. Clayton has fond memories of at least 500 former students. "Seeing students experience success, after working diligently toward personal high points" he said. "A conference championship, selection for an All-American honor, getting that first job, or making a well deserved grade in a course gives a student great excitement and pleasure and I share vicariously with them in this success."

Clayton and his staff of four work closely with President Hendricks and the Methodist College Foundation of the College's Annual Loyalty Fund Drive. Like many of his colleagues, he feels Methodist has progressed more in the last five years than it did in the previous twenty. Enrollment has almost doubled, the budget has grown 79 percent, debts have been reduced 25 percent, and the endowment has increased 124 percent. Clayton feels that Methodist College will continue to improve its financial stability and educational opportunities. The best is yet to come.

PARKER WILSON GIVES MC TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

When Parker Wilson first arrived at Methodist in the fall of 1962, the campus consisted only of the classroom building, science building, student union, boiler plant, and student and faculty apartments. The college at that time had 200 students.

In the ensuing 25 years, Wilson has taught hundreds of students and witnesses numerous changes at the college. Wilson earned a bachelors degree in history and government from Wake Forest University and a MA from George Peabody College. He had done postgraduate work at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He traces back his love of history to the fifth grade, when he did a booklet on the Trojan Wars. He has taught Western Civilizations, Modern European History, Ancient History, and several more.

In 1978-79 the Methodist College Alumni Association awarded him the "Distinguished Faculty Member" award. Many 1960's MC Alumni will remember that Wilson was advisor to Green and Gold Masque Keys and student publications. He is a former chairman of the Fayetteville Little Theatre and has participated in more than 80 productions by this group. He is still a respected actor, with a flair for comedy. He is co-advisor of the MC chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, and is serving as chairman of the Department of History and Political Science. As an Associate Professor of History, Wilson is now the senior faculty member at the college. Active in professional organizations, he takes a keen personal interest in present and former MC students. "When I see their accomplishments, my heart is full, and I feel that I've had a part in making them more productive people," he said.

PEGGY McCULLEN REFLECTS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AT METHODIST

Library Assistant Peggy McCullen has checked out and inventoried more books than anyone in the history of Methodist College. She has been in charge of circulation of Davis Memorial Library for 25 years.

When Mrs. McCullen started work at Methodist in September, 1963, the library was located in two rooms in the basement of the classroom building. She was there when David Memorial Library opened in 1964, when students formed a line and passed books from the classroom building to the new library. August 17, 1987, was another day when friends of Davis Memorial Library used this occasion to honor North Carolina poet laureate Sam Ragan by releasing a recording of Ragan reading his poems.

Mrs. McCullen has worked under all seven head librarians at Methodist, but she credits Mrs. Womack with doing more than anyone to improve the library. Today, the library contains more than 77,000 volumes and 13,150 non-fiction books.

For most of her 25 years, a regular work schedule has eluded Mrs. McCullen. In the 60's and 70's when the library was short of help, she worked a combination of days, nights, and weekends. In recent years, she has only had to work an average of one weekend a month.

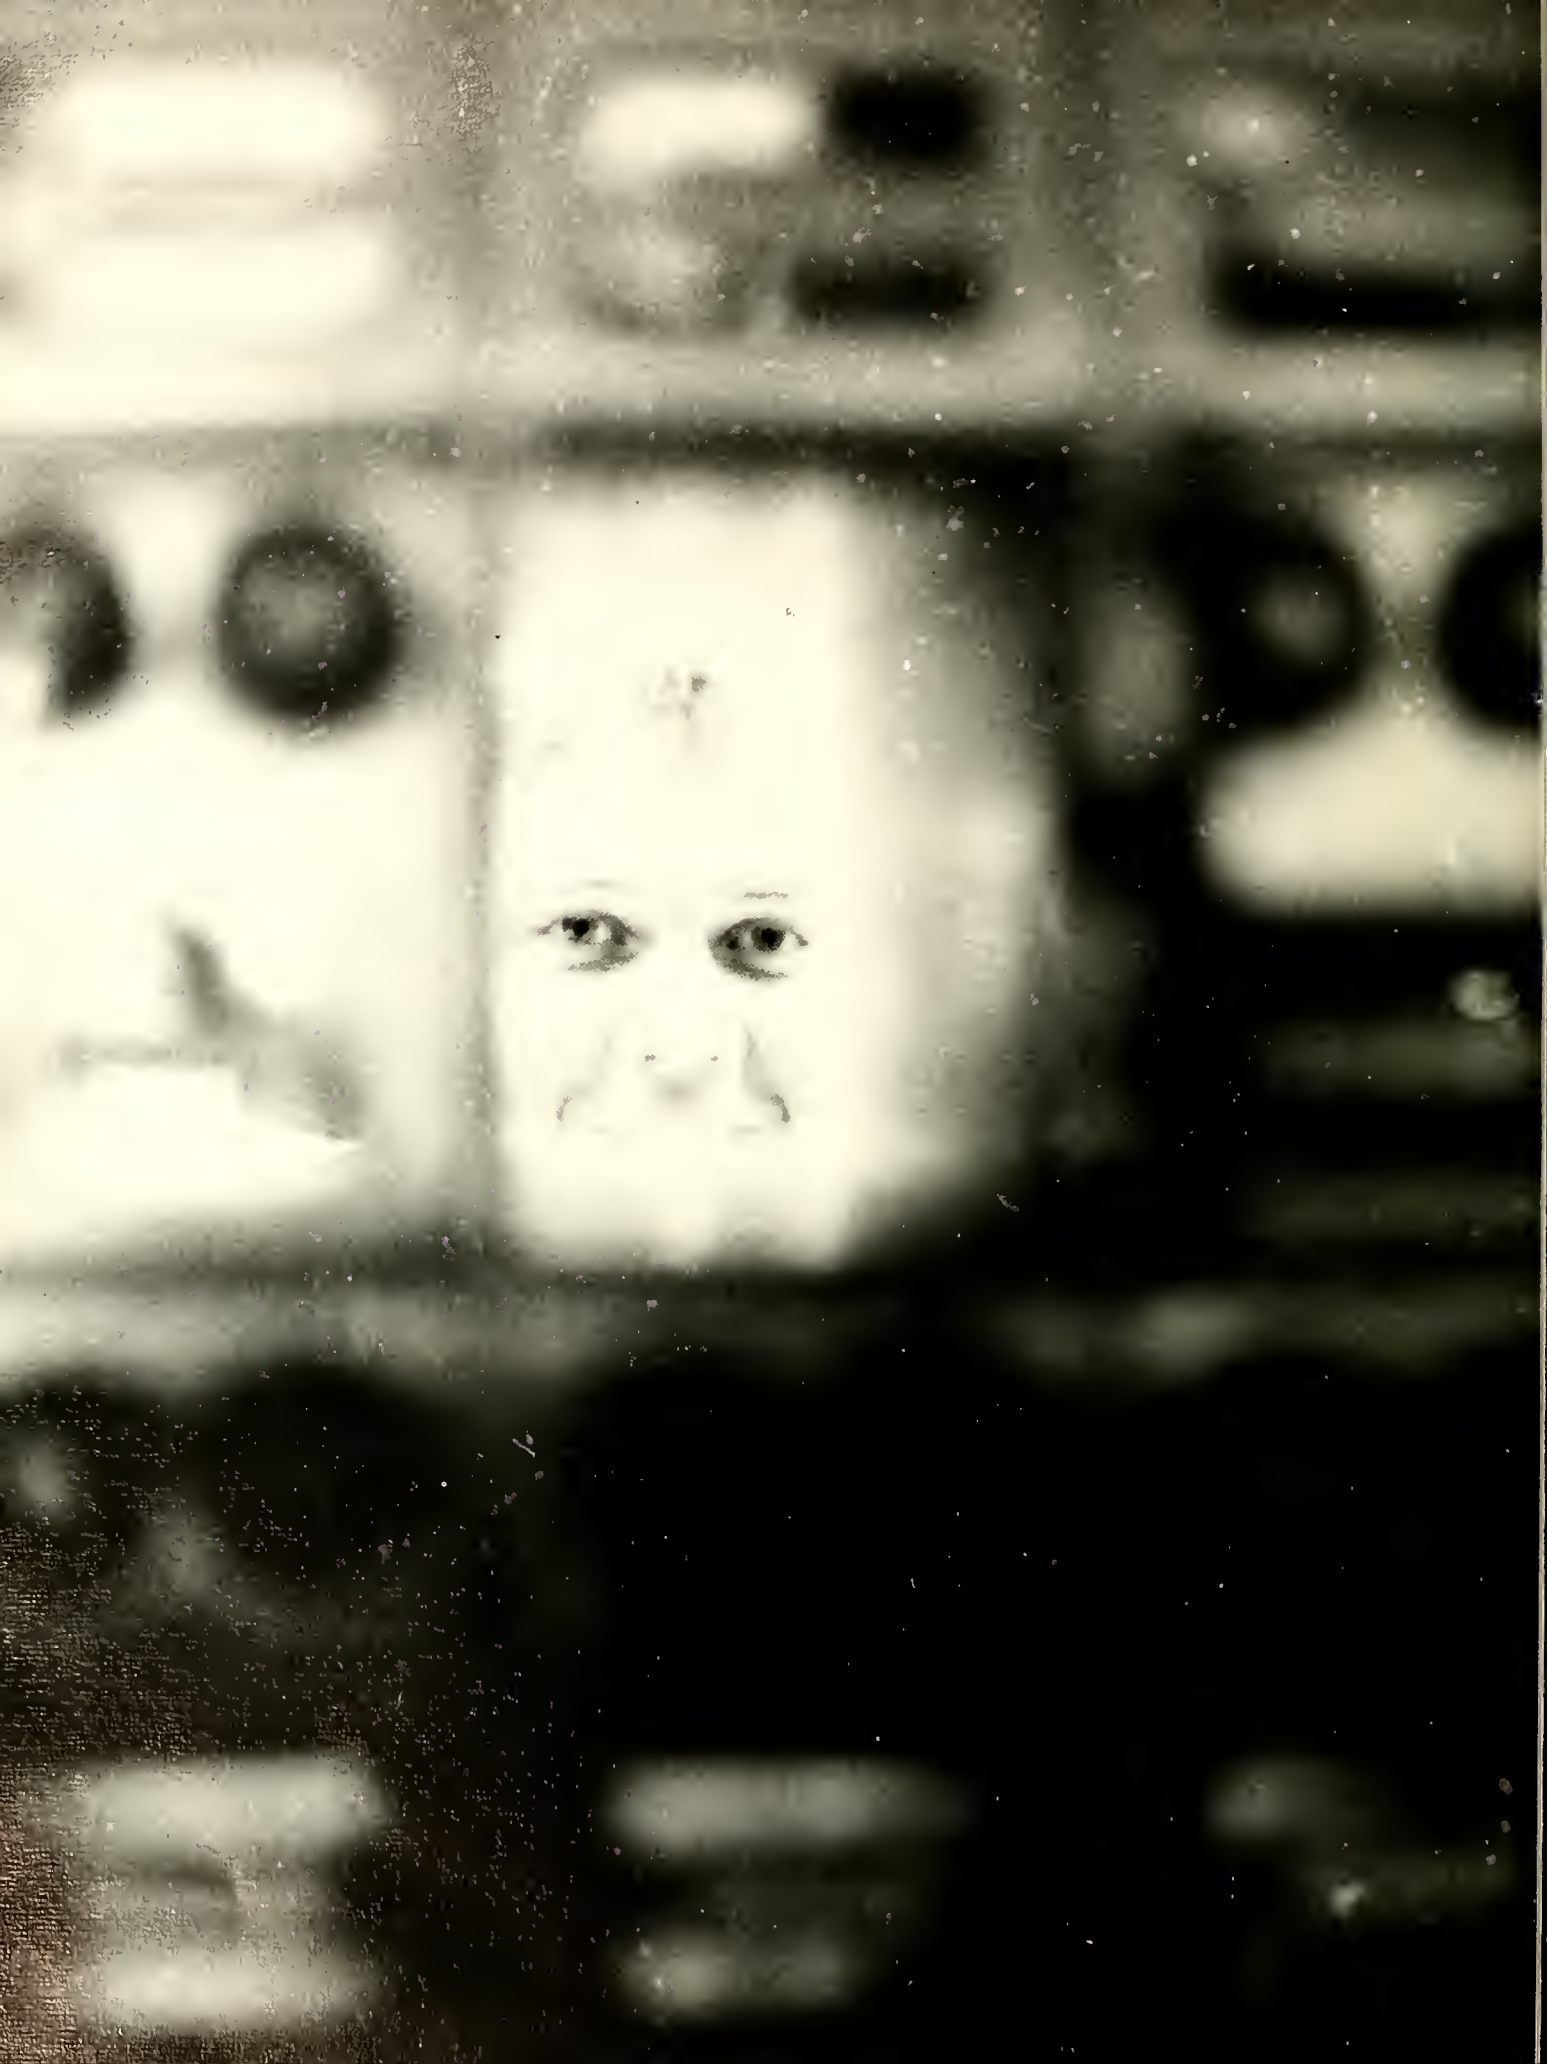

At this writing, Mrs. McCullen could be found perched on a stool in the mezzanine taking inventory. That's her idea of a least favorite task — an annual chore that takes about two months.

KOINONIA'S SPRING VACATION

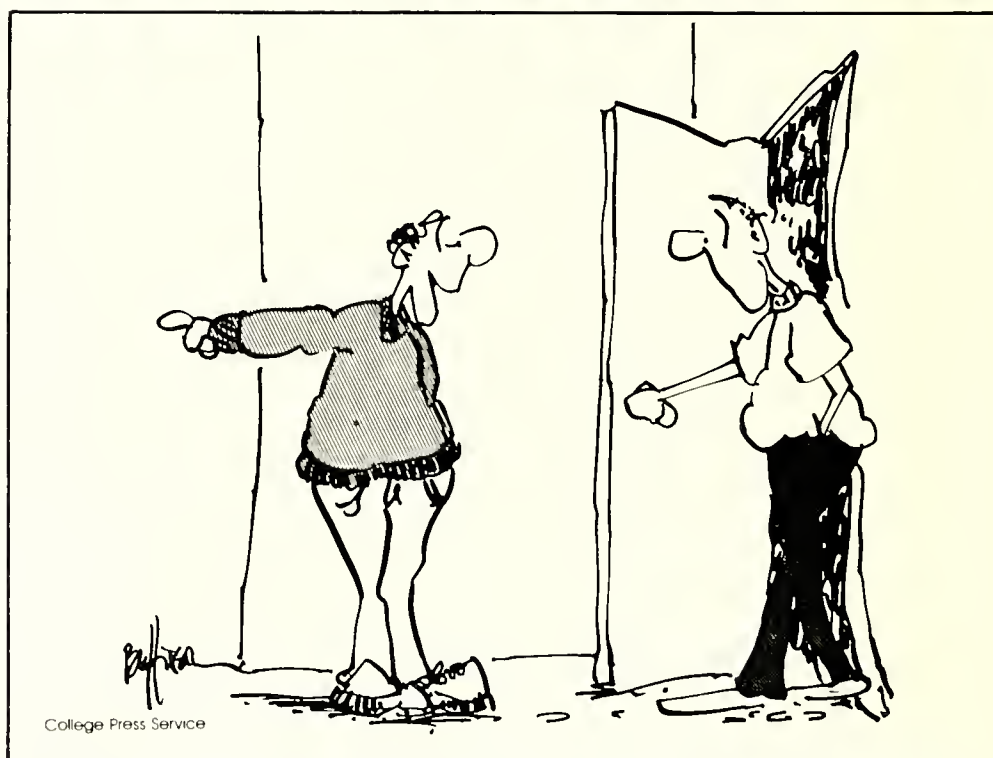

"The clinic called to say that they have your test results and if you hurry quick, you can hear about yourself on the 5 o'clock news."

Dear Methodist,

Around June 1st, I was given the yearbook unfinished and asked if I could complete it. So over the past two months I have worked in my spare time to try and tie up loose ends and put together a yearbook that hopefully some of you will enjoy. It was not an easy task and I'm sure I left out items or names that you may have wanted to see and I apologize. All I can say is the next yearbook will be better and I will then have a staff that will help me put it together and provide timely feedback needed to complete a yearbook that students will be proud of.

Even though this was a hard task of picking up where someone else left off, I have enjoyed trying to put this yearbook together and I definitely found it a great challenge. I would like to thank Dr. Nakereiru, the yearbook advisor, who put faith in me that it could be done and helped where he could. I would also like to thank Bill Billings for all his time and effort. He understood my position and took time-out of his busy schedule to see that I had numerous photographs, data I needed, and names and write-ups. Thank-you, Brenda McKimens and the Athletic Department for all the pictures, rosters, and write-ups that you provided me. Also, thank-you to all the other various students, faculty, administrators, and co-workers for providing me information when I needed it. All I can say "is bear with me" on this yearbook. Like I have already said, there are probably names missing, pictures you wanted to see, or pictures you may not have wanted to see. I regret that there was not an organization section, but due to the lack of time and help pictures were not made. So, I apologize for the lack of some sections.

I hope that in some ways you will be happy with the yearbook you have in your possession and will look forward to the next edition of the Carillon. I promise you it will be bigger and much better. I hope you enjoy this yearbook.

Thank you,

Susan Osborne, Editor

P.S. Thank you Mom and Dad for putting up with my mess.
